1. Buried Beneath intellectual property

The Buried Beneath name, branding, original interface content, software, documentation and original creative materials are protected by applicable intellectual property law. Users must not copy, scrape, reproduce, reverse engineer or commercially exploit protected material except as permitted by law or written permission.

2. User content

Users must have rights to content they upload. By uploading content, users grant Buried Beneath a non-exclusive, limited licence to store, process, display, resize and transmit it as necessary to provide and promote the relevant Platform functionality. This licence ends when no longer reasonably required, subject to lawful retention, backups and records.

3. Complaints

Copyright complaints should identify the work, disputed material, basis of the claim and contact details and be sent to the company email.

This document forms part of the Buried Beneath Platform legal suite and should be read with the other policies applicable to the relevant feature or transaction.
